

GRAMMAR: Countable Vs Uncountable Nouns

apple

pear

broccoli

milk

oranges

tomatoes

fish

bread

GRAMMAR: Countable Vs Uncountable Nouns

Countable Nouns	Uncountable Nouns
a tomato / some tomatoes	some bread
a potato / some potatoes	some fish
an apple / some apples	some broccoli
an orange / some oranges	some milk

a + consonant sound

an + vowel sound

GRAMMAR: some / any

Maria wants to prepare Moroccan couscous. She has some tomatoes, some carrots and some onions. She doesn't have any courgettes. She has some chicken but she doesn't have any meat. She also needs some cumin, some saffron and some chickpeas. Do you have any chickpeas?

GRAMMAR: some / any

Affirmative Form

some + plural nouns some + uncountable nouns

Negative
Form

not + any + plural nouns not + any + uncountable nouns

Interrogative
Form

any + plural nouns any + uncountable nouns

GRAMMAR: some / any

Practice: Complete with some or any.

1. There's _____ milk in the fridge.
2. There isn't _____ tea in the teapot.
3. Is there _____ sugar in your coffee?
4. Are there _____ cookies in the box?
5. I need _____ eggs to prepare the cake.
6. I have _____ tomatoes and _____ onions, but I don't have _____ salt.

GRAMMAR: some / any

Practice: Complete with some or any.

1. There's some milk in the fridge.
2. There isn't any tea in the teapot.
3. Is there any sugar in your coffee?
4. Are there any cookies in the box?
5. I need some eggs to prepare the cake.
6. I have some tomatoes and some onions, but I don't have any salt.